

Two Little Words

Providing Resources to Support Units, Chapters, and Lodges

Arrowmen, here's a little quiz for you: "What's the most welcome two-word sentence in the English language?" Some of you might say, it's "We won!" Others would vote for, "Here's money!" But I think the most welcome two-word sentence is "Thank you."

It isn't used as often as it should be. How often do you use it? And how often do you say thank you to the persons who are closest to you: Your mother and father? How often do you say it to your friends or even strangers when they do something for you?

It's so easy to forget, especially if the Good Turn is done by somebody in your family. Too often we take for granted the many things our parents and other family members do for us. Here's a challenge for you: See if you can find some reason to say thank you every day to some member of your family. You may be surprised how they will react.

A simple thank you costs nothing, but it means so much to those who matter most to you. And remember, manners make a man and can be the difference between you being just another Arrowman and one who earns respect from those around him.
